Norman's 17 Yard Pass Sets Up Touchdown

Thompson Reinjures Knee; 12,000 Attend Big 6 Opener

By NORRIS ANDERSON.
(Sports Editor, The Star)

AMES, Ia.—Iowa State took the initiative here in its Big Six opener with the University of Nebraska and, through the efforts of its quarterback, Ron Norman, pushed over its first touchdown at the opening of the second quarter.

Rollinger's kick for the extra point was good.

With a strong wind hampering aerial play, Norman's passes at first failed to click, but near the end of the first quarter a 17-yard throw to Halbert and a 6-yard pitch to Jensen put the ball on the Huskers' 2-yard stripe.

As the second quarter opened, Chauncey went through the U. N. line for the score.

Upwards of 12,000 patrons had filed into the twin Cyclone stadiums for this opening Big Six encounter for Nebraska.

Not since 1941 has a Nebraska team tripped Iowa State on its own field. Well-spiked with wartime V-12 trainees. The 1943 and 1945 Cyclone teams easily walloped the visiting Huskers.

Injuries continued to riddle the Huskers.

Quarterback Dick Thompson reinjured his jammed knee during the final practice session Friday and his gait is marked by a distinct limp. Halfback Cletus Fischer, jinxed by pulled leg musicles, is expected to be used sparingly.

Probable starting lineups:

NEBRASKA		IOWA STATE
Damkroger (211)	LE	Laun (179)

Slavs Hit Back At Chile

Diplomatic Relations Severed As Result Of Expulsion Of Envoys

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia—(AP)—The Yugoslav ministry of foreign affairs announced Saturday that Yugoslavia had decided to break off diplomatic relations with Chile.

A foreign office statement declared that Chile's claims against two Yugoslav diplomats expelled by the Chilean government Wednesday constituted a "most fantastic slander against our government."

The statement charged Chile with "breaking the most basic principles of international relations."

It said the Chilean action against the two Yugoslavs—Dalibor Jakasa, secretary of the legation at Buenos Aires, a visitor in Santiago, and Andrej Cunja, former charge d'affaires in Santiago—was "a part of a planned campaign, not in the interests of the people of Chile, but in the interest of expansionistic tendencies of certain powers which more and more are directing the internal and external policies of Chile."

Action Called Hostile.

The Chilean government, in expelling Cunja and Jakasa, accused them of fomenting, on orders from an international communist organization, a campaign against the United States and against hemisphere defense plans, through strikes and sabotage.)

The statement called the Chilean action hostile and said: "Considering there is no further necessity for further diplomatic relations with a government which can't decide independently its relations with other countries, the government of Yugoslavia is deciding to break off diplomatic relations."

Since there is no Chilean diplomatic mission in Belgrade, a formal break involves simply the announcement, which was made Friday night but given to foreign correspondents only this morning in an edition of the communist party organ Borba.

Iowa Teachers Receive Advice On Long Skirts

SIOUX CITY, Ia.—(AP)—Extreme long skirt styles should be avoided, Northwest Iowa teachers attending their annual convention here were told Friday.

Lillian Gray, instructor at San Jose State college, San Jose, Calif., told a sectional meeting of elementary and rural teachers that teachers' skirts should be neither too long for comfort nor too short for modesty.

"Styles can be kept within reason,'" she said. "What's natural about walking in long skirts that make one look as if she had no legs?"

Board Lets Contract For Fire Escapes

The state board of control announced that it is meeting the demands of E. C. Iverson, fire marshal, and has let a contract for installation of 11 fire escapes and asked bids on installation of sprinkling systems in 15 buildings in nine institutions.

In view of the action of the fire marshal in condemning the buildings, the legislature after prolonged debate appropriated $188,923 for the installation. The fire escape cost will be $27,420.

Lawrence Manufacturing Co., Omaha, was low bidder for the fire escapes which they expect to have installed in August, 1948. Potter Manufacturing Co. bid $29,019 on nine fire escapes. The board of control is seeking an earlier completion date.

Bids on the sprinkling systems will be opened on Nov. 15. Engineers estimate the cost will be $155,000 although the board of control obtained permission of the fire marshal not to install sprinklers in three buildings which he had recommended. The board estimates these would have cost $15,000.

Plan Wreck Buildings.

Sprinklers will not be installed in the old Main building at Beatrice home. The upper floors have been abandoned and the first floor will be used to house employes. The board plans when money is available to wreck the building.

Immediate installation in two cottages at the boys' school at Kearney were also exempted by the fire marshal on the promise of the board that plans for their wrecking would be made during the biennium. They are not needed at present due to a decline in the school population.

Buildings for which bids are being asked are:

Orthopedic hospital, Lincoln, old administration building.

State hospital, Lincoln, center building.

Industrial home, Milford, administration.

Girls' Training school, Geneva, administration.

State hospital, Hastings, center building and south annex.

Boys' Training school, Kearney, cottages "A," "B" and "C shop and administration buildings.

State hospital, Norfolk, ward buildings F1 and F2.

School for Deaf, Omaha, administration.

School for Blind, Nebraska City, main.

The board has been having fire drills at all institutions and announce that inmates can now be removed in minimum of time. Systems have been devised for removal of bed-ridden patients and the handicapped.

Army-Illinois Tie At Half

...Scoreless Deadlock

YANKEE STADIUM, N. Y.—(INS)—Powerful Illinois and unbeaten Army ended the first half of their intersectional clash today in a scoreless tie.

Illinois threatened to cross the Army goal three times during the first two periods, but failed to muster the scoring punch.

The half ended with the ball on the Army six, and Illinois missing an attempted field goal.

FIRST PERIOD.

The Army kicked off, and following an exchange of punts, Agase intercepted Gustafson's pass on the Army's 44 and galloped 20 yards toward the Cadet goal. The next series of plays was climaxed by Moss' 10-yard pass to Owens.

Short gains reached the Army's 9, but Steger was stopped on an end sweep and Moss' fourth-down pass failed. Another punt exchange took the ball to Army's 18, the period ending a short time later.

SECOND PERIOD.

Gladoville, Army, punted sixty yards over Moss' head to Illinois' 14. The Illini were penalized to the 4 for clipping on the play. Gustafson ran Eddleman's punt back to the Illini's 35.

Short gains by Rowan eked out a first down on the Illinois 24, but the latter finally braced and took the ball on its 20. Eddelman punted to Army's 30.

The latter lost 15 yards on a holding penalty and Gladoille quick-kicked to Patterson, who fumbled buvt recovered on Illinois' 24.

Later, Illinois began a drive from its own 29 and pounded down to the Army 6. With only seconds remaining, Maechtle attempted a placement goal from the 15. But the pass from center was momentarily fumbled, and hurried kick missed the uprights.

Score: Army, 0; Illinois, 0.

Employe Of Rudges' Given $22,500 In Pay

Court Decision Based On Letter

An award of $22,500 was allowed Edward Gleisberg of Lincoln Saturday by County Judge Harry A. Spencer as a judgment on his claim against the estate of Mrs. C. H. Rudge under terms of a contract of employment with her.

A member of the Rudge household for 16 years prior to Mrs. Rudge's death in 1946, Gleisberg had filed a claim for $32,500. This represented an amount alleged due according to a letter dated Jan. 12, 1940, Gleisberg claimed.

Issue arose whether the letter was a contract increasing Gleisberg's pay as provided in a previous letter of June, 1939. Since there was no consideration specified in the later letter, executors of the estate contended there was no legal contract. The letter, they said, at most was evidence of an intended gift only.

Insurance Policy.

The letter of 1939 gave Gleisberg an insurance policy costing $500 a year in addition to his salary of $35 a week. An additional $5,000 a year was to be given to him by the later letter of January, 1940, sent to S. A. Sanderson, business associate of Mr. Rudge and later Mrs. Rudge's advisor.

The court found, however, that no consideration was necessary on the grounds of a Supreme court decision which stated:

"Terms of a written contract may be changed by a subsequent oral agreement, and such subsequent agreement requires no new consideration."

The court further found that the letter was not the contract but was merely evidence of an oral contract made a few days previously.

Gleisberg's entire claim of $32,500 was not allowed because all the yearly payments of $5,000 which were alleged due did not fall within the last four years as required by the statute of limitations.

Expenses Taken Out Of Estate Of Mrs. Rudge

...RULING ON $91,423 CLAIM

An application of Mrs. C. H. Rudge's heirs asking that expenses of her last illness amounting to $91,423, be paid from the estate of her husband, Charles H. Rudge, who predeceased her, was disallowed Saturday by a ruling made in County court by Judge Harry A. Spencer.

According to the will of Charles H. Rudge, he directed:

At the death of my wife, Caroline Rudge, I order all expenses of her last illness be paid out of my estate.

Although his will was filed for probate at least a month before Mrs. Rudge executed her will, she directed that the expenses of her last illness be taken out of her estate.

Judge Spencer concluded that she intended to disregard the provision in Mr. Rudge's will.

Stewart McMasters, nephew of Mrs. Rudge, and Edward Gleisberg, an employe in the Rudge home, argued in County court hearings for the transfer of funds from Mr. Rudge's estate. They are both residuary legatees under Mrs. Rudge's will.

The beneficiaries of Mr. Rudge, including Holy Trinity church of Lincoln, opposed the payment of Mrs. Rudge's expenses out of Mr. Rudge's estate.

—Palestine Controversy—

U. S. Agrees To Partitioning

...Pledge To Aid In Maintaining Order

LAKE SUCCESS—(AP)—The United States Saturday endorsed in principle the partition of Palestine into Arab and Jewish nations.

The official Jewish agency immediately welcomed the move and the Arabs declared such a step was "unacceptable" to them.

Herschel V. Johnson, U. S. delegate, told the United Nations assembly's special Palestine committee that the U.S. also agreed to help the U.N. preserve "internal law and order" during a recommended two-year transition period. But he made no direct commitment on the question of providing military forces to guard against possible attacks from outside the Holy Land.

China followed the United States to declare that instead of partition the U.N. should seek "a solution which would be acceptable to both parties to the dispute."

Arab Berates Partition.

Britain has taken no stand on the partition issue and Russia and France have yet to speak before the U.N. on the question France was understood to be supporting partition.

Faris El Khoury of Syria, a top Arab spokesman in the U.N., answered Johnson immediately. He told the delegates that partition was "unacceptable." He added that "its foundation is laid on the shifting sands of misinformation" and it would take "ignorance of human rights to accept such a decision."

In a long-awaited policy declaration before the 57-nation Palestine committee of the general assembly, Herschel V. Johnson, U. S. Delegate, also:

Admit 150,000 Jews.

1. Endorsed in principle a majority recommendation by the U. N. Special Committee on Palestine (UNSCOP) for admission of 150,000 Jewish immigrants into the Holy Land during the interim period.

2. Declared in effect that Britain was obligated to continue ruling Palestine until the United Nations undertakes "to assume responsibility."

A spokesman for the American delegation said that, in the opinion of the U. S. government, Britain was not free to carry out her announced plans of withdra ing from Palestine until the U. N. had set up machinery to replace the British administration.

Johnson made no direct reference to the current Arab league council's move to send troops to the borders of Palestine.

Trench Silo Wall Gives Way; 2 Hurt

Both Girls Hospitalized

WAHOO, Neb. — (AP) — Two young farm girls were in an Omaha hospital Saturday for treatment of injuries received in a cave-in Friday night on the James Hurt farm about six miles from Valparaiso, Neb.

The girls are Marlene Hurt, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hurt, and a neighbor girl, Margaret Houdek, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Houdek. Both were virtually buried under dirt when a wall on a trench silo in which they were playing gave way.

'Fair Condition.'

Conditions of the two girls were described by hospital attendants Saturday as "fair."

Mr. Hurt was placing dirt outside the cement wall of the trench silo with a tractor and bulldozer when the wall gave way. The tractor, the dirt and the wall fell into the trench.

Thrown From Tractor.

Hurt was thrown from the tractor and suffered a sprained ankle, a leg cut and other bruises but was able to summon the help of neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hudkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurt and the neighbors extricated the girls. Marlene Hurt suffered a crushed right leg and severe body bruises and abrasions. The Houdek girl was pinned under the exhaust of the overturned tractor and only a part of her dress was visible when rescue efforts started. She was burned on the body and legs by the tractor exhaust and received possible internal injuries.

A Wahoo physician and the Wahoo fire department first aid squad were called and the children later were taken to Omaha.

Young Demos Promised New Voice

...In Party Affairs

By PAUL SCOTT.
(Star Staff Representative.)

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. — Arriving by auto, afoot and by plane, approximately 200 Nebraska Young Democrats were quick to assert their interest in their party's campaign strategy Saturday.

They were promised a voice in the naming of state and congressional democratic candidates on the card for the 1948 election in an address by Clarence Clark, vice-chairman of the state Democratic central committee.

He extended an invitation for the Young Democrats to meet with the state committee in Omaha about Nov. 22. D. M. Murphy, Omaha, chairman of the Grand Island meet, stated that a committee would be appointed Saturday afternoon and that the six district heads would also attend the November meeting.

"We may even send the chairmen from each county."

"The meeting here represents a trend toward the return of the democratic party to power in congress," commented John A. Blatnik, Minnesota democratic representative in the house.

credentials committee; Peter Bee-Kelly, Broken Bow, heads the Committee Chairman.

During the morning, chairmen of four of the convention's committees were named. James R. Kelley, Broken Bow, heads the credentials committee; Robert Tierney, Alliance, resolutions; Lynn Heth, Valentine, nominations; and Robert Thurmond, Omaha, rules.

Choice of a new president to succeed Robert O'Hanlon, Omaha, seems to have narrowed down to four possibilities—Donald Morrow, Lincoln; George Richardson, Omaha; Jerry Adams, Imperial; and Otto Kotouc, jr., Humboldt.

In an afternoon speech, Alex Mills, jr., Osceola, chairman of the Columbus district, denounced the 80th republican congress for its failure to establish any suitable housing program for veterans and other homeless persons.

Mills also took the Nebraska GOP congressmen to task for their failure to stop cuts in agricultural department funds for reclamation.

Grand Island was packed with thousands of visitors today, in the city for the annual "Harmony Harvest." A total of 12 bands lent color to the festival.

Meanwhile, a strong plea for the young democrats to organize their strength from precinct to precinct throughout the entire state was voiced Saturday afternoon by Donald Morrow, chairman of the Lancaster county delegation.

Young Vote Powerful.

In his keynote address, Morrow called on the young democrats to organize and "lead the fight to defeat in the 1948 election Nebraska's republican delegation in congress and Senator Kenneth Wherry."

"It is the young vote which will defeat Congressmen Buffett, Curtis, Miller and Stefan," Morrow declared. "It is the young vote that will bring down the curtain on Senator Wherry," he added.

Morrow warned that unless the republicans are swept from office in 1948 "the nation will face a national sales tax." This tax bill, Morrow pointed out, is now being prepared by a committee of big business men appointed by Congressman Knutson, the republi-

MONTY AND HIS BERET

A great soldier, British Field Marshal Montgomery, in World war II commanded the highly esteemed British Eighth army until his responsibilities were expanded.

★ ★ ★

Montgomery is probably Britain's greatest military leader on land, yet essentially lacking in any sense of humor. At Sandhurst six British cadets in training at the military college, found themselves up to their ears in hot water. It appears that Marshal Viscount Montgomery was having a bite in a nearby restaurant, and had hung his famous beret on a rack. The six cadets in training, in high spirits, desecrated this symbol of Montgomery's greatness, by appropriating the beret to decorate the massive head of a bronze lion on the public square. Unlucky day, they found themselves confined to the barracks for 20 days.

★ ★ ★

Some of Montgomery's subordinates, hastily detailed to locate the beret, found it reposing at a jaunty angle on the lion's head, under which appeared the inscription: "The lion roars." For a change, strict disciplinarian that he is, so did this famed British military leader. He threatened all cadets in training at Sandhurst with punishment unless the guilty confessed. It is dangerous, indeed, to toy with greatness.

★ ★ ★

On this side of the pond some of the friends of an even greater military leader, America's truly beloved Dwight D. Eisenhower, were toying with greatness. There was formal announcement near the week's end by Eisenhower's friends that the allied commander-in-chief would be offered as a candidate for the presidency in 16 states. The dispatches said General Eisenhower knew about it. He can't be criticized, fine American that he is, for aspiring for a place in the white house, but it rolls back American history for a stretch of 40 years. Not since the beginning of this century have the American people taken to a military man to direct civilian government. "Teddy" Roosevelt came up from the Spanish-American war and his Rough Riders to become president of the United States, a strong president; and Franklin D. Roosevelt was an undersecretary of the navy during the Wilson administration, but his path to the white house was completely disassociated with the military tradition.

★ ★ ★

More distinctly that tradition belongs to early America—to George Washington, to Andrew Jackson, to Harrison, and to Grant. Perhaps General Eisenhower's determined friends know what they are doing—time will supply the answer to that one—but the development is in itself a matter of more than purely American concern. Because of conditions the chances are that it will attract attention around the world. The immediate question is whether the channels to peace will or will not be aided by the selection of a man who since early manhood has had no training in civilian life, and whose entire career has been spent in the military.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower outwardly at least got along more than fair-to-middlin' with the Russians. If he had any real difficulties during the days of American-Russian partnership, he succeeded admirably in keeping them concealed. And after the war he has been anything but a Russian baiter; repeatedly in public utterances he has expressed his belief that the Russians do not want war, and that in spite of the very great difficulties it will be possible to get along with them. His superior during the war, now Secretary of State George C. Marshall, has found it more difficult.

★ ★ ★

But the boom announcement that headed a week of more or less calm developments is only in the bud. It's a long way to flowering. Up until now, General Eisenhower, in the public's eyes the hesitant victim of well-meaning friends, has had it easy. He wasn't seeking office and he hoped his friends would quit pulling at his coat sleeves. When this was written it still was uncertain whether he himself had changed his mind. For the moment the classic profile of New York's Tom Dewey, the tall figure of Minnesota's Harold Stassen, and the squat, chubby outlines of Ohio's Bob Taft were in eclipse. That will not last very long. On his western swing, Senator Taft, either by premeditation or quite innocently, raised one question that will fasten itself to General Eisenhower at the very beginning. What about universal military training?

★ ★ ★

In moderate fashion Mr. Truman's position is known. The role of a republican candidate would be much more complicated, what with the party's majorities in the 80th congress demanding tax reduction. Thus far the tax aspect of a genuine program of universal military training has been avoided in all discussions with more enthusiasm than in ducking a plague. Military training is going to cost a tidy hunk of money. Along with debt burden, with occupational responsibility, with aid for the rehabilitation of devastated nations, the addition of a program of universal military training involves financial responsibilities upon which this nation should be informed fully in undertaking to reach a decision.

★ ★ ★

There are other matters of more than superficial concern. The army has fought doggedly to keep its hand in over control of atomic energy. That was one of the factors, one of the two main factors, in the prolonged struggle over the confirmation of David Lilienthal and his associates on the civilian atomic energy control commission. Before General Eisenhower moves a great deal towards a presidential nomination, the American people will want to know what his program of atomic energy control is. The recent efforts of Lilienthal to acquaint the American people with the developments and potentialities of atomic energy entirely apart from its military use brought nothing but dour faces from a circle of military leaders, although there was nothing to indicate General Eisenhower was included in the group. There's a small bunch of military men who crave the final word and the complete say over atomic development.

★ ★ ★

That was the highlight of an otherwise uneventful week; the highlight sharing honors with President Truman's "Waste Less Food." Charles Luckman, holding his first governmental post, was putting an extraordinary amount of drive into the fight to conserve food for a hungry world. It was still too early to measure results, if any.

★ ★ ★

Another world's series had passed into history, with the New York Yankees returning to the spot they have occupied so many times, with the Yanks' garrulous Larry MacPhail out after having poked a former associate in the eye. MacPhail was not entitled to too much sympathy; he stepped down with two million dollars in his pocket. But the great American sport came to season's end with a raucous flourish. Baseball records fell like fall leaves. Pitchers gave more bases on balls than hits. And when it was all over, club magnates and players split the juiciest melon any season in history ever has produced.

Football vied with the world's series for public favor. There was just sufficient thunder in the opening games to suggest that 1947's gridiron classics would provide enough surprises to shock the pigskin fans into silence.

★ ★ ★

Out of the Near East came disturbing news while the British completed preparations to withdraw their occupational forces from Palestine. London was the authority for the reports that a huge Arab league army is massing on the frontiers of the Holy Land. The Palestine reply was forthcoming immediately with a demand upon the United Nations to take recognition that the Arabs were preparing for war.

★ ★ ★

In the United Nations, Russia again took up the attack, this time a direct frontal assault on the Marshall plan, which a Russian spokesman said was America's new foreign policy to "undermine from without." The charge was levelled in the meeting of the assembly's economic committee. Grim-faced Russia's Arutiunian told the committee the Marshall plan was an instrument to foment internal discord and strife, and to create economic conditions which would permit Uncle Sam to take advantage of all who accept its favors. But in western and central Europe there was additional evidence the Russians were overplaying their hand. French communists were the latest to reveal signs of nervousness over the strategy upon which the Kremlin is proceeding. Dependable diplomatic sources have revealed that Moscow has ordered a Europe-wide anti-American campaign. It was the last thing in the world the French communists wanted. They are fearful Moscow's dissention will cost them seats in the French municipal elections slated for late October.

Chapter 1

It was a blizzard. The wind got its start in Canada and came lashing down 150 miles across Lake Superior, buckling the four-foot-thick ice with ear-stunning thunder. The snow was an aerial avalanche that choked highways and streets of towns and rose like floodwater in the upper Michigan forests.

Andy Brant sat in the untidy front office of the Red Rock Reporter and scowled at his typewriter. A two-inch curtain of solid ice and snow covered the windows. A dangling electric bulb above Brant's head showered down yellow light which emphasized the hewn-granite plainness of his features, the hazel eyes, the broad and prominent nose. His hair was black and rumpled, he was of medium height and muscular, and his age was 28.

He wrote: "Again Red Rock faces utter isolation. Prisoners of the storm, we 1300-odd men, women and children will be alone and interdependent. In the next few days fire, flood or human cussedness might destroy the rest of the world, and we be none the wiser. And if human cussedness, flood or fire should destroy us . . ."

Carol Johnson said, "We need more fire, Andy."

Carol had gold-brown hair, gray-blue eyes and an engaging grin. She was slim, pretty and seven years younger than Brant. She performed the duties of society editor, star reporter and advertising solicitor, and earned every penny of her modest salary.

Brant pushed back his chair, got up and pried open the cover of the stove. He emptied half a scuttle of coal into its maw.

"Maybe we'll all freeze before it's over," he said, "but no use hurrying the process." He called loudly, "Glenn."

A door that led into the rear of the shop opened. A tall, thin man came into the office. His nose was long, red and pointed. He wore a mackinaw and a woolen cap that covered his ears.

"Better thaw out," Brant said "How's the stuff coming?"

Glenn Quarfield, printer and pressman, fished a sack of tobacco out of his pocket and separated a thin leaf from a book of cigarette papers.

Brant kicked the base of the stove. "These blizzards! It's always the same. Everything stops dead except trouble and snow-shoveling."

He rummaged in his desk til he found a newspaper clipping, months old, that had caught his eye.

The front door burst open. An icy gust swept glittering grains into the office, and lumps of snow fell from the outer side of the door to the floor. A short, broad man came in, white as a ghost from head to foot.

"Shut it!" three voices chorused.

Sheriff Ed Worth smiled. "Quite a little flurry," he observed in a voice as mild as his eyes "But I can't' complain. Storms are like vacations for police officers. No auto accidents, no calls out into the county."

"But plenty of barroom fights," Andy said.

Brant perched on the edge of the desk, smoothing the newspaper clipping. "Ed, I'll bet you don't' realize how many murderers and criminals there are in Red Rock. For days, now, they won't have anything to do but murder and commit crimes"

The sheriff was unperturbed. "I got the last murderer two years back, when Indian Steve chopped off his partner's head. He's doing a life stretch in Marquette. One or two lumberjacks tried to fight with axes after that, but I whipped the daylights out of 'em"

Worth's head came only a couple of inches above Brant's shoulders, yet Brant knew the other was not so much bragging about his fighting ability as stating an established fact. Worth had a pair of shoulders as wide as the door against which he leaned, and a chest as deep as a cider-barrel. His short bow legs and long arms had the strength of three ordinary men in them. Brant had seen him pound three ordinary men into insensibility.

"There are two murderers in Red Rock," Brant said.

The sheriff stared. "Huh?"

"It says so right here." Brant held out the clipping. "In any representative cross-section of the population, one person in 37 will commit a crime, and one in 650 will commit murder. Those are figures compiled by the American Bar Association. We have 1,300 people."

"Those highbrows with their figures," Worth snorted.

Quarfield was rolling another cigarette. He said, "Some of the boys are thinking of killing Ralston Crane, the new assistant manager of the paper mill, if he don't start paying the dough he lost playing poker at Gene Glebb's poolroom."

"A love murder would make better headlines," Carol put in. "I looked out the window and saw Crane walking past our house with Ella Macfarlane last night. He had his arm around her, and she had her head on his shoulder. It looked as if she was crying."

"Wait a minute," Brant said. "You can't mean Ella."

"Yes, I can. And I like her as well as anybody, even if—"

She stopped talking and looked at Brant.

"Oh, oh," she said. "Andy, I clean forgot."

He took his pipe from the desk abstractedly.

"John Macfarlane is a good friend of mine, and I always did think Ella was all right. Of course, there's probably a perfectly innocent explanation."

"Maybe," Quarfield suggested darkly, "it was Lola Tucker with him. She was out somewhere last night. She's about the same build as Ella."

Sheriff Worth buttoned his mackinaw and wrapped his muffler around his mouth and nose. His voice came dully.

"John Macfarlane has got one of the worst tempers I ever saw. Tried his doggonedest to kill a feller who said something about his first wife 12 years ago. Took four of us to hold him."

He waved his arm vaguely, pulled his fur cap low over his head and opened the door.

Brant stared after him.

"Whatever he stopped by for," Brant observed, "he forgot all about it."

But inwardly he wondered about that . . . and worried.

Forest Fire Rages On In South Dakota

. . Wind Shift Aids Crews

DEADWOOD, S. D.— (INS) — Shifting winds greatly relieved Saturday the work of crews fighting a forest fire that already has laid waste to 10,000 acres of timberland near Deadwood.

The blaze was roaring over a strip about five miles long and almost three miles wide when the wind changed from the west and drove the flames back over a burned out area.

Scattered thundershowers were forecast for the area which also would help quench the fire.

Winds up to 40 miles an hour fanned the flames Friday and threatened to send the fire in the direction of several isolated cattle ranches and hamlets.

No casualties, however, have resulted from the fire which has been burning fiercely since Friday noon. More than 500 men have been pressed into service to fight the blaze.

Authorities of the Wind Cave national park said the fire was started by lightning.

Guardians File Petition To Support Miss Overell

LOS ANGELES—(INS)—A petion filed in probate court Saturday asked $500 a month support for 18-year-old Louise Overell, who was acquitted last Sunday along with George Gullum of charges that they killed her wealthy parents.

The petition, filed by Louise's two uncle-guardians, Emmanuel and Fred Jungquist, asked that the money be "paid to either of the guardians" from the estate of the late Walter E Overell, believed to be worth around $500,000.

Hearing of the petition for the family allowance was set for Oct. 27

Prices On Denver Menus May Be Reduced Slightly

DENVER — (INS) — President Truman's food-saving program may mean a slight reduction in the price of meals at Denver restaurants.

The Colorado Restaurant association will meet in Denver next week to consider whether five cents shall be cut from the price of a meal when no bread or butter are served.

Strike Crisis In Chile

Communistes Seek U.N. Intervention In Diplomat Incident

SANTIAGO, Chile—(AP)—President Gabriel Gonzales Videla ordered drastic coal rationing Saturday as Chile dug into the armed forces' fuel reserve in a strike crisis blamed officially on a foreign-dictated communist plan "to paralyze any Chilean action in defense of hemispheric security"

While the president reiterated his "unbreakable intention to eliminate communist party control over the working masses," the Chilean communist party called for United Nations consideration of the situation developing from Wednesday's explusion of two Yugoslav diplomats on charges of "communist agitation."

With a strike of 16,000 coal miners in its eighth day, an official report from Concepcion, in the center of the coal fields, said only 50 had returned to work. The miners are asking for higher pay.

Miners Refuse.

The president declared that refusal of the miners to obey orders to go back to work despite an "advantageous" wage grant was confirmation of the "political and revolutionary character" of the work stoppage.

In a statement issued by its politburo, the Chilean communist party declared that "in the presence of the extremely grave accusations" made by the government the communists request appointment of a commission of outstanding persons to investigate the facts.

"Since the incident acquired international character and the intervention of President (Juan D.) Peron (of Argentina) has been asked, it is logical and convenient to take it for consideration before the only international organization juridically qualified to examine the problem—the United Nations," the communist statement said.

"West Against East."

The government expelled the two Yugoslavs — Andrej Cunja, former Yugoslav charge d'affaires here, and Dalibor Jakasa, secretary of the legation in Buenos Aires—Wednesday night, accusing them of fomenting, on orders of an international communist organization, a campaign against the United States and inter-American solidarity through strikes and sabotage.

The Chilean government made public Saturday translations of three documents it said were found in Jakasa's baggage It said the documents supported the government charges against him and were among those shown to an Argentine police commission which came here to examine evidence in the case.

One document was described as a memorandum which declared in part:

"Some time ago communision rooted itself in the people (of Chile). In its ranks figure rather worthy leaders but in these last months it has been losing ground because the government must follow a political line which the United States dictates.

"The hand of the government and of the United States embassy may be seen in a proposal which the memorandum said rightist parties made for Chile to break off diplomatic relations with Russia.

"Here everything turns around the supposition' of a new war "West against East, the United States against Russia."

Eulogize Returned War Dead

Six Caskets Lie In State

SAN FRANCISCO —(INS)— Six bronze caskets, bearing silent representatives of the 300,000 Americans who lost their lives in World war II, lie in state in San Francisco's city hall Saturday.

Flags drape the coffins of a soldier, sailor, marine, coastguardsman, aircorpsman and a civilian who fell with the armed forces.

They were men chosen at random from the 3,028 Pacific war dead returned to their homeland Friday aboard the army transport Honda Knot. Saturday, for the second day, civic ceremonies honor the dead with noontime rites at the city hall.

Trains Leave Monday.

Monday, in funeral trains with accompanying guards of honor, the dead will begin their last trip home. They will go to the 15 distribution centers throughout the United States and from there to burial in their home plots or to national military cemeteries—as their family decree.

The 3,028 men returned aboard the Honda Knot were representative not only of the 228,000 men who will be returned to the United States at the request of their families but the nearly 100,000 others who will remain in their resting places overseas.

Outdoor ceremonies on the Marina Green greeted the silent homecoming heroes Friday. Civic, religious and military leaders spoke brief tributes and a 21-gun volley saluted the dead as the ship lay at anchorf off shore.

A drenching rain failed to interfere with the smoothness and silence of the proceedings.

A guard of honor will never leave the dead unattended and a military escort will accompany each casket to its final destination. This escort will remain for the funeral, as the representative of the people of the nation.

Girl Bruises Eye

Five-year-old Nancy Olmstead, 3013 S street, received a bruised right eye Friday afternoon when she walked into a light pole.

The girl told police she was walking north on Tenth street near O when the accident occurred. After being treated by Dr. A. H. Webb, she was released.

DEMOS FAIL TO DETERMINE SITE

. . . For '47 Convention

WASHINGTON —(INS)— President Truman would like to see the 1948 democratic convention held again in Chicago but Saturday, just 2½ weeks from the date of selection, the choice is still up in the air.

Philadelphia leads Chicago and San Francisco in the bidding with an "on the line" offer totaling $250,000, the proposal which won the Quaker City the 1948 republican nominating convention.

Robert E. Hannegan, retiring democratic chairman, and Gael Sullivan, executive director of the democratic national committee, leave Saturday for the west coast. Hannegan is to address a postmasters' convention in Los Angeles next week, but his western swing may have a bearing on the convention decision.

The democratic committee will pick the site on Oct. 29.

Chicago's convention bureau reports that it can't provide hotel rooms for either July or August. The republican convention in Philadelphia is scheduled for the week of June 20. And in the words of one democratic lieutenant, the democrats "won't hold the convention ahead of the republicans."

Lyman Sugar Beet Factory Re-opens

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb.—(AP)—The Lyman sugar beet factory, closed since the 1942-43 season, was processing sugar beets again Saturday as a result of an agreement between the Great Western Sugar Co., and farmers in the Lyman area.

The factory was closed down due to low beet production and a labor shortage during the war years.

Last spring the company agreed to re-open the plant if the farmers would plant and thin 50,000 acres of sugar beets in the Lyman area this year.

QUATRAINS

The Long Skirt

Enraged, the women want to bar
Long skirts again.
They think the short ones nicer far.
So do the men.

Double Strength

He who has a friend nearby
Has the strength of two for trouble.
And when doubt and fear are nigh,
He possesses wisdom double.

Epitaph

Here lies the body of Martin Grove.
In Heaven we hope to find him.
At ninety miles an hour he drove
And left the world behind him.

The Other Side

Beware the tale, be what it may,
If plainly hatred swells it.
'Tis best to wait to hear the way
The other fellow tells it.

Air Reserve Gets First Four Planes

Inspection Set For Sunday Afternoon

Air reserve deatchment training at Lincoln moved rapidly toward its operational phases with delivery of four training aircraft to the Lincoln unit Saturday.

Formal presentation and acceptance of the planes will take place Sunday at 3 p. m., at which time the Lincoln detachment, consisting of the 535th bombardment squadron (VHB) and the 210th composite squadron, will be inspected by Col. L. H. Dalton, assistant chief of staff, plans and training division, Second air force, and Col. James J. Daniel, jr., commanding officer of the 413th AAF base unit, parent organization and administrative for the reserve program.

Cols. Dalton and Daniel will inspect both personnel and ground and air facilities during the day, and it is expected that the base will be thrown open to welcome the Lincoln public, which has manifested keen interest in the progress of activation.

Training Starting Soon.

Flying training, it was indicated, will start immediately, employing three AT-6 (advanced trainer) single engine planes and one AT-11, a two engine craft. At the present time, according to Maj. Willard R. Gilbert, director of operations and training for the reserve program, 39 officer pilots now are assigned to the 535th for aerial re-training.

Other officers and enlisted men, to be drawn from the 210th composite squadron also will receive training as the aircraft may be available. Maj. Gilbert said that present activity plans call for approximately 25 take-offs and landings daily by reservists.

Personnel selected for flying training are determined on a basis of past performance and manifestation of interest and desire to pursue the reserve training program. The 210th composite squadron, Major Gilbert explained, will serve as a replacement pool for the 535th, and also conduct ground training for all reservists in the Lincoln area.

Enlisted Reservists Sought.

At present 130 officers and enlisted men are on the roster of the 210th. One of the chief problems, it was pointed out, is the procurement of enlisted reservists to provide adequate manpower for the ambitious reserve setup. Former air force members in virtually all categories of military occupational specialties are needed urgently, reserve officials declared. A comprehensive and far-reaching program of training and technical instruction is available to members of the ACER, they said.

Simply stated, the mission of the air training reserve in general, and the Lincoln detachment in particular, is to maintain flying proficiency and to keep officers and enlisted men fully abreast of new equipment, doctrines and tactics developed by the U. S. air forces, as well as disseminating information on air policies and strategic concepts as they are determined.

Together with the air national guard, the organized reserves will provide a nucleus of trained, skillful flying personnel which the air forces would expand in the event of emergency. Furthermore, the reserve detachments would provide the actual aerial shock troops who would be called upon to meet any unannounced onslaught against the United States.

In command of the 535th bombardment squadron is Lt. Col. Richard Joyce. His staff, all from Lincoln, includes Capt. Carl E Hellerich, operations officer; Capt. Dale J. Dicknite, adjutant; Capt. James E. Galliher, staff bombardier; Capt. Vern O. M. Traudt, staff navigator; Capt. Myron K. Wilder, communications officer.

The 535th bomb squadron as part of the 381st bomb group, participated in the European air offensive under the Eighth bomber command stationed in England. The 381st bomb group was activated November, 1942, at Gowan Field, Idaho, and remained there until December, '42. From Gowan Field, Idaho, the group was transferred to Ephrata, Wash., and was there only one month when they were ordered to Pyote, Tex., for the purpose of phase training. Completing phase training in April, '43, the group entrained for Camp Kilmer, N. J., on that date, in preparation for overseas duty. Arriving in England in June, '43, the group was stationed at Ridgewell until June, 1945. Arriving in the U. S. in July '45, the group went to Camp Kilmer, N. J., for the purpose of rehabilitation leaves. The 381st bomb group was then inactivated in August, '45. Reactivation of the 381st bomb group as an air reserve group was in July, '47.

As a part of the Eighth bomber command, the 381st bomb group was cited for bravery many times. Listed below are the citations and dates:

January '44. Cited for extraordinary heroism, determination and esprit de corps in action against the enemy.

November '44, awarded battle credit for participation in the Normandy campaign.

Co-operation Sought In Chest Drive

Employes Section Meets At Dinner

Work of leaders and co-operation by Lincoln citizens is the formula to success in the forthcoming twenty-sixth annual Community Chest drive, more than 200 leaders of the employes section were told during a dinner meeting Friday night at the chamber of commerce.

The campaign swings into high gear Oct. 18, after a rally the preceding evening at the Cornhusker. In the following 13 days, 1,200 volunteer workers will solicit for $232,000.

Executive Secretary Louis W. Horne said the goal cannot be reached by only pocket money from the contributors. They should realize that proceeds will support 27 local agencies for a full year, eliminating the necessity of 27 separate drives throughout the 12 months, Horne stated.

Cared For 23,000.

More than 23,000 persons were cared for by these agencies last year, he added.

Grey R. Jewett, general chairman of the drive, termed the campaign a community affair. A committee of 15 persons will be selected to apportion the collection among the various benefiting groups, he said.

Others who spoke were Rev. O'Linn McGuire, associate pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, and Elsworth F. DuTeau, president of the Lincoln chest. Edward A. Becker is chairman of the employes division.

Poultryless Days Over A Year's Time Would Hurt State's Economy

Should the restrictions on poultry and poultry products be maintained over a period of a year, repercussions may be felt in the economy of Nebraska, J. H. Claybaugh, of the University of Nebraska poultry husbandry department warned Saturday.

While in agreement with the president's self-denial program in theory, Claybaugh pointed out that the danger may come a year from now where there will not be enough eggs to supply the demand. The poultry population will of necessity be decreased because where the market is not great the raisers will cull their flocks.

Big Cash Farm Income.

When the poultry population decreases, the farm income of the state will also decrease—between 8½ and 12 per cent of the cash farm income in Nebraska comes from chickens and eggs, Claybaugh continued.

The consumption of eggs during the first six months of the year has been heavy with average being about 20 eggs per capita for the period. However, it has dropped off some since June, Claybaugh said, attributing this to the fact that the supply is less plentiful and the price higher.

Claybaugh said he did not believe there were as many chickens and eggs in storage this fall as normal.

"Eggs are one of the cheapest staples you can buy today,' Claybaugh said, "because at 60 cents a dozen you are paying just 40 cents a pound."

He also pointed out that the average hen is fed 84 pounds of grain each year and lays 15 dozen eggs.

The Beatrice Foods' storage plant reports that last year 132,000 chickens were in cold storage and today there are only 87,000, a decrease of 45,000. But egg storage presents another picture.

In 1946 there were 593,000 pounds of frozen eggs (a dozen eggs weighs about a pound and a half) in the Beatrice Foods' plant and at present the figure is 1,280,000 pounds. In addition there are 384,000 pounds of powdered eggs, about three times as much as a year ago, and 8,000 pounds of case eggs. The latter figure is 13,000 pounds less than in 1946, however.

Lightning Ignites, Destroys Barn, Grain, 2 Hogs

. . . At Demning Farm

Lightning was blamed Saturday for starting a fire at the farm of Norman Demning, of Route 8, which resulted in the complete destruction of his barn, some livestock and tools, all valued at about $600.

Destroyed within the barn were 240 bales of straw, 60 bales of alfalfa hay, two 70-pound pigs, about $150 worth of tools, and 300 bushels of oats. A hog house nearby also was burned beyond repair.

The College View fire department rushed to the scene, but "it started fast and burned fast," Demning said.

States Average Rainfall 19.74 First 9 Months

Apparently it isn't how much, but how often it rains in Nebraska.

Figures released by the weather bureau in Lincoln Saturday show Nebraska's average rainfall for the first nine months of 1947 totals 19.74 inches. This compares with 18.44 inches for the same period last year and normal of 19.73 inches.

The answer, the weather bureau points out, is above average rainfall in April and June, and subnormal totals and extreme heat in July, August and September.

Temperatures averaged 67.1 degree, compared with 63.8 in 1946 and a normal of 64.2 degrees. An alternate bid asked $4,309.65, substituting six-cylinder, 90 horsepower motors. The trucks being replaced are a 1941 International and two 1940 Chevrolet ½-ton trucks and a 1934 1½-ton Dodge truck.

Abel Construction company submitted the low bid of $7,506.85 for laying of paving in district 1003, Sixth from Washington to Sumner. Dobson and Robinson Construction company bid $7,595.90. The engineer's estimate was $7,700.

Bids were also received from two firms offering to sell or rent punch-card accounting machine equipment to the water and light, treasurer, and auditor departments, but total bids were not computed Saturday morning. The city's estimate of cost was $57,000.

Class Three Airport Likely For Columbus

COLUMBUS, Neb.—(AP)—R. F. Weller, airport engineer for the state department of aeronautics, has advised local authorities that the department has prepared a tentative three-system runway layout for a class three airport at Columbus.

The present airport site would be used, according to the letter received by chamber of commerce Manager Fred Wiren.

Airport Manager Fred Harris has announced, meantime, that the first CAA-approved night flight from the Columbus airport was made this week. The CAA has designated the field as "available for night landing on call."

ON WAY TO MASTER—Being returned by Express to Estes Park Saturday was "Tim," an Alaskan Husky, bound for a reunion with his master, four-year-old Bobby Lennos, of Estes Park, Colo. "Tim" wandered away from Bobby while the boy was visiting relatives in Lincoln last month. He was found by the Leo Zavadil family, 1815 K, and after a lengthy search, is now being returned.

Links Trounce NE In City Grid Scrap

POWERFUL GROUND GAME BRINGS 20-7 DECISION TO LHS; ROCKETS SCORE LATE

BY GEORGE MILLER
(Star Sports Staff Member).

LINCOLN high kept alive its record of never having dropped a city championship football battle as the Red and Black gridders dominated every phase of the game to hand Northeast a 20-7 lesson Friday night at Magee Memorial stadium before a capacity crowd of 10,500 fans.

Plagued by fumbles and heavy penalties, the Links were still able to roll up an imposing number of yards gained. A crushing ground offensive gave Coach Bill Pfeiff's charges their fifth consecutive win of the 1947 season and their seventh straight triumph in the city series.

John Moore, Stan Gerlach and Howard Cook handled the heavy ball-carrying duties for the winners. Cook, making his first appearance since being injured in the Gothenburg game, ran in good style after replacing Bill Howell who was hurt in the first half.

John Moore

Northeast showed no inclination to take to the air lanes in the first three quarters and was able to do nothing with the sturdy Lincoln forward wall. In the final period Quarterback Mark Martin warmed up his passing arm but the Rockets were unable to fashion anything resembling a scoring drive.

The lone Rocket touchdown came in the closing minute of play when Lincoln's reserve quarterback, Bob Bickert, elected to pass on the first down.

LONG RUN.

Vern Peterson, a substitute halfback, intercepted the ball before it reached a Lincoln receiver and raced 55 yards down the west sideline to score the third Northeast touchdown since the series was instituted in 1941.

Until Peterson's dash the Black and White eleven had been hopelessly outclassed in the point-making department. Lincoln would have been in paydirt more often if a rash of fumbles had not struck the LHS ball carriers at inopportune moments.

Center Boyd Thompson was all over the field for the Rockets and gathered in two Lincoln bobbles to save his mates from further punishment.

In the matter of first downs Lincoln had 16 while Northeast was able to compile three. Two of the Rocket advances came in the last quarter when their passing game began to click. The suburban outfit would have been assertive if pass receivers had been able to hang on to Martin's perfectly placed tosses.

After a scoreless first quarter the Links opened the point making when John Moore slashed into end zone from less than one yard away on a fourth down plunge.

THIRD TRY.

It was the third try by Moore who had taken over the ball carrying duties after Cook had lost four yards on a fumble which the halfback recovered on the Northeast six-yard stripe. Cook provoided the extra point with a sweep into the end zone after he had faded back to pass and had been unable to spot a receiver.

An exchange of fumbles which ended with Tackle Jim Heldenbrand recovering a Northeast misplay on the Rocket 35 yard line led to the Links' second tally. Gerlach, Moore and Cook moved the leather within the Northeast 10 yard line and Cook climaxed the drive with a one yard dash into the end zone to score standing up. Moore's plunge for the extra point was stymied by the Rocket line.

Moore powered into scoring territory from the two yard line to provide the final Red and Black marker. The drive began on the Northeast 39 yard line after Mark Martin had punted from his own nine-yard stripe. Three consecutive attacks on the Rocket line by Moore ended with the scoring play.

NE OUTPLAYED.

The Northeast touchdown stirred downcast Rocket rooters who had seen their favorites pushed all over the field. In the first three quarters the home team had been able to control the ball long enough for only fifteen plays from scrimmage.

Peterson halted a scoring foray by Lincoln reserves by nabbing Bichert's pass on the first down after four passes by Mark Martin had failed to work. Bob Allen booted a perfect place kick for the seventh Northeast point.

Ninety-five yards in penalties against Lincoln were enough to slow down the winner's scoring pace. In adition to the rules infraction troubles, the Links had four fumbles recovered by Northeast players.

End Ed Weir was a stalwart on defense for the Red and Black, while Howell, Gerlach Cook and Moore were key members of the ground-gaining corps. Lincoln attempted only two passes, one of which led to the Northeast touchdown.

Quarterback Martin and Center Boyd Thompson were the mainstays for Northeast. The defense play of the pair was outstanding. On the offensive Coach Bun Galloway's crew was spotty, although Fullback John Neiderhaus turned several sizable gains.

Injuries Dampen Hopes

Plainsmen Underdogs Invading Antelopes

BY RALPH STEWART
(Star Sports Staff Member)

Saturday morning's dark clouds were not nearly as dim and gloomy as prospects in Coach George "Bus" Knight's Nebraska Wesleyan grid camp as the Plainsmen prepared to collide with a touted Kearney Teachers eleven at Magee Stadium Saturday night at 8:00.

Knight's charges, hit hard in key positions by injuries all season long, will take the field in the underdog role against Kearney's galloping Antelopes.

Smarting from a 7-6 upset last week at the hands of the Chadron Eagles, Coach Charlie Foster's Teacher eleven will be out to get back in serious consideration for NCC honors.

The Wesleyan aggregation must also gain a win in Saturday night's tussle to get back into the conference title chase. Last week's 13-13 tie with Wayne mars the Methodist's loop record.

Wesleyan officials are anticipating an overflow crowd for the feature NCC test of the week. Temporary bleachers have been erected to handle as many as 10,000 fans.

WHITE CO-CAPTAIN.

A last minute change Friday by Coach Knight tabbed Ken White, 155-pound Plainsman scatback, as co-captain with Charley Gordon.

Coach Knight had previously named Halfback Chick Knight for the job, but it is now doubtful that Knight, hobbled with a stiff knee, will see action.

Since Cliff Squires, little All-America center last year, underwent a knee operation at the start of the grid campaign, the Wesleyan camp has been plagued with an injury disease.

This week regular ends Del Miller and Ray Westover became victims of the jinx. Miller twisted a knee during practice and is listed as a doubtful starter. Westover may not be allowed to suit up, depending on the decision of his physician before game time.

Although he may be in the starting lineup, Bob Ketterer, end replacement hampered by a flu attack all week, will not be counted on for long service. That leaves only two wingmen for Knight to call upon. Veteran Keith Tadlock and Freshman Darrell Grell, will have to bolster the Plainsmen flanks.

Backfield strength is at a low ebb also. Ace signal caller Rex Mercer, out of the opening tests with injuries, has not rounded into top form as yet. With Knight's service limited and Dick Westover and Alden Johnson out, the starting Wesleyan performers will be called on to handle iron-man duties.

The Plainsmen have been sharpening their pass defense all week to stop the Kearney aerial attack sparked by the accurate pitching arm of Bob Hauver and the catching abilities of End John Rumbaugh.

Kearney will sport a seven pound weight advantage with a hefty forward wall holding a ten pound edge over the Wesleyan linemen.

The starting lineups:

Ketterer (170)	LE	Rumbaugh (160)

Pro Schedule Offers Action

(By International News Service)

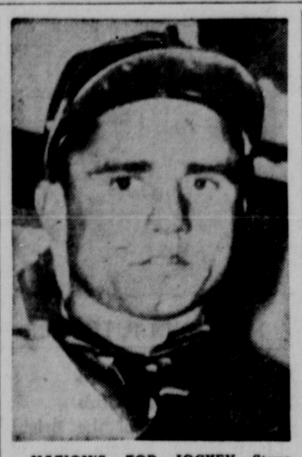

All the pro grid teams will swing into action Sunday in both the National football league and the rival All-America conference.

In the N.F.L., the Champion Chicago Bears may come to life against Philadelphia, although the Eagles were impressive against New York last week. Likewise, the Giants finally may get started at the expense of the Washington Redskins.

The Chicago Cardinals are picked over Green Bay, the Los Angeles Rams over the Detroit Lions, and the Boston Yanks over Pittsburgh's Steelers.

The A.A.C. has four well-defined favorites, with the top two in each division meeting the bottom two. In the western section, the Champion Cleveland Browns entertain the Los Angeles Dons, and Chicago's Rockets invade San Francisco to tackle the second-place Forty-Niners.

In the eastern division New York's powerhouse Yankees are host to the hapless Brooklyn Dodgers. Buffalo's Bills, tied with the Yankees for the lead, entertain the Baltimore Colts.

C. V. Routs Wahoo 20-0

... Norton Shines

Sparked by the running and passing of Fullback Scotty Norton, Coach Emory Priefert's College View gridders romped to a 20-0 win over Wahoo Friday afternoon on the local's playing field.

After a slow first quarter the Viewmen suddenly came to life, capitalized on a pair of breaks and tallied two quick touchdowns to gain a 13-0 halftime advantage. A clinching marker came late in the fourth frame after the Purple and Gold threatened throughout the period.

Priefert's charges exhibited their best brand of ball to date in racking up their second conference win in two loop frays.

Both teams battled back and fourth in midfield during the opening canto before Halfback Earl Elliott's 45-yard quick kick rolled out of bounds on the Wahoo two yard stripe.

HURRY KICKER.

College View's hard-charging forward wall rushed Fulback Bill Jackson as he attempted to kick from his end zone. The ball careened off the side of his foot and fell on the 12-yard line. Little Verlan Rumbaugh picked it up and scampered to the two before being stopped by a host of Wahoo men.

After hitting the center of the line for no gain, Norton slashed off tackle and fell over the double stripe for the game's initial tally. His attempted placekick for the conversion missed.

Jack Hassinger, College View pivot man who turned in a sterling defensive performance, pounced on a Wahoo fumble a few minutes later to set up the second Purple and Gold touchdown.

RUMBAUGH SCORES.

On the first play from scrimmage Norton calmly flipped a strike to Rumbaugh, who was all alone in the flat. The slippery quarterback scotted all the way to six points.

Rumbaugh tossed a pass to End Bill Maly in the end zone for the extra point.

Alert ball playing in the College View line again made the final tally possible. Ted Dutton, a bulwark in Priefert's forward wall, recovered a Wahoo fumble on the 26. After drawing a 15-yard holding penalty, Norton smothered by Wahoo tacklers whipped a strike to Don Svoboda on the 10-yard line.

Elliott rammed over but fumbled in the end zone. His efforts were not wasted, however, as Louie Walker, garantuan CV tackle ponched on the pigskin for the touchdown.

Ted Dutton, Dick McDuffee, Ray Snyder and Hassinger stood out defensively for the Viewmen.

A pair of hefty tackles, Godfrey Lanik and Bill Hancock, bolstered the Wahoo forward wall while Jackson and Quarterback Jack Stewart sparked the Wahoo offensive.

FORT SMITH, Ark.—(AP)—Favorites Bud Ward of Spokane, Wash., and Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., led eight survivors of earlier rounds into quarterfinals of the Hardscrabble Country club's annual invitation amateur golf tournament here Saturday.

Two other favorites were eliminated Friday. Last year's Hardscrabble winner, Bob Cochran of St. Louis, was defeated in second round play by Tom Stephenson of Kansas City one up on the 20th hole. Wilford Wehrle of Louisville, Ky., who twice has won Hardscrabble titles, was first-round loser.

Besides Ward, Stranahan and Stephenson, others still in the running Saturday included the Veteran Steve Creekmore, sr., of Fort Smith, several times winner of the Arkansas state championship, and the tourney's medalist, Ted Adams of Kansas City.

Creekmore eliminated, 8 and 6, Earl Thompson of Kansas City, who Friday morning ousted Wehrle, one up, after scoring four straight birdies.

Adams, who was paired against Creekmore, became medalist when he shot a two-under-par 69 Friday morning after he and five others had tied with even-pair 71's in regular qualifying rounds.

TYPICAL LINKS, NE TEST THRILLS FANS

By RALPH STEWART
(Star Sports Staff Member)

While 10,500 cheering spectators looked on, Lincoln's two traditional rivals—Lincoln High and Lincoln Northeast — battled their hearts out.

The overflow crowd that jammed its way into the Magee Stadium confines Friday night was the largest crowd to witness a high school game in Lincoln. Magee Stadium proper was packed, special bleachers making a complete bowl were bubbling over with enthusiastic fans and countless eager spectators lined around the fences to witness the city championship battle.

Almost the entire seating space was filled fully 30 minutes before either team filed on the field for pre-game warm ups.

FANS SILENT.

Only moments of silence through the entire evening came as the Lincoln Northeast band played the Star Spangled Banner before the opening kickoff.

Boyd Thompson, all Mid-East conference center last year, made the first tackle in Friday night's encounter. The burly NE pivot man made all the decisions for his Rocket teammates. It was Thompson's alert play that helped stave off two Lincoln threats. Twice he pounced on Links' fumbles.

Scanning the Lincoln, Northeast roster might remind one of the Cornhuskers with such names as Lorenz, Hoy and Weir. Just future Cornhuskers. More indications of the Nebraska Cornhuskers came early in the initial frame when the Rocket forward wall halted an 80-yard Lincoln march with a gallant goal line stand. A similar stand fell inches short in the second canto as the Links tallied their first touchdown. But it took four downs to dent the Rocket forward wall that time for a total net of two feet.

SINGLE INJURY

In spite of the vicious tackling and blocking displayed by both teams, only one player was forced to leave the game due to injuries. The unfortunate victim was Lincoln's Bill Howell, who left the game in the second period after receiving a head injury. Little Bill Sloan was shaken up slightly when he collided with a teammate during the pre-game exercise.

BANDS COLORFUL

General consensus says "Hats off to band directors Bernard Neven of Lincoln high and Vernon Forbes of Northeast." The two directed their respective units through an impressive and entertaining halftime ceremony. The co-operation of the two units set a good example of sportsmanship. Another indication of sportsmanship comes from the fact that although Lincoln high drew a total of 90 yards via penalties and the Rockets were penalized 15 yards, neither team was penalized for unsportsmanlike conduct of any kind.

Climax to the all-important city rivalry came with less than a minute of playing time remaining. As fans started filing out, they were suddenly halted as a scatback Rocket reserve, Vernon Peterson, intercepted a Links' aerial and scampered 55 yards, preventing a shutout for the Northeast eleven.

SATURDAY SCHEDULE

Kearney at Wesleyan.
Doane at Hastings.
Peru at Wayne.

By MORTON L. MARGOLIN

The three top games of the week in Nebraska college football competition are scheduled for Saturday night.

In Lincoln, an estimated 5,000 fans are expected to turn out for the Kearney-Wesleyan tilt, which may hold the key to the Nebraska College conference race.

CHADRON IDLE.

Chadron, the conference leader, edged out Kearney 7-6 last week, and Antelopes are expected to try to regain their lost prestige by trying to buffet Wesleyan around.

NCC standings are also likely to be joggled when Peru meets Wayne in a contest highlighting the Wayne homecoming. Peru will be seeking its first win after ties with Wesleyan and Midland.

Falls City Chamber Backs Grid Special

FALLS CITY, Neb.—A football special to Nebraska City October 22, for the Falls City-Nebraska City high school football tussle will be sponsored by the local chamber of commerce.

The high school band will be taken on the special and chamber officials are asking merchants to buy railroad tickets for the band members. Several hundred rooters are expected to make the trip for the important Southeastern Nebraska conference struggle.

Hastings' Spady Gives Post $500

... From Bonus Money

HASTINGS, Neb.—(AP)—Dick Spady, 18-year-old former Hastings American Legion junior star pitcher who has signed a double A contract with Mobile, Ala., a Brooklyn Dodger farm club, has given $500 of his bonus money to the local Legion post for the promotion of its boy baseball program.

In making the presentation, young Spady said it was "a token of appreciation for the many good things and opportunity the American Legion baseball program has given me."

Spady began his baseball career in the local kid ball program in 1944. He won nine of 10 games in pitching the 1946 Legion Juniors to the Big Six Legion league championship and 11 of 15 over the season. He was an all-state pitcher.

Snyder Case Goes To Jury

Defense Claims Rapist Uncaptured

The state case charging Edwin J. Snyder, 47, 4534 Gladstone, with the statutory rape of a 10-year-old girl last July 11 near Stevens creek, was submitted to a jury in District court at 11:45 a. m. Saturday after opposing counsel completed final arguments.

County Attorney Frederick Wagener and C. Russell Mattson, Snyder's counsel, rested their cases at the close of Friday's session.

Ben Meyer of the Aden Grain company, a witness of the defense, testified Friday that Snyder and his son, Bob, were at the grain elevator at 11:30 a. m. on the day the offense allegedly occurred.

Previously four little girls, including the victim, testified that Snyder gave them a ride to Bethany at about 10:30 a. m. The young girl involved stated she arrived home at approximately 12:15 noon.

Closing Arguments.

With Snyder's wife and two daughters in the sparsely packed courtroom, Deputy County Attorney Herbert Ronin began the prosecution's closing arguments.

He declared that the state could postively identify Snyder as the man who took the four young girls to Bethany by the identity of his car, identification of his person, the red gas can said to have been in the rear of Snyder's car, and his nature when arrested.

Ronin pointed out that when Snyder was arrested on July 12 by Detectives Orin Graves and Paul Beave, the defendant fainted when told he was under arrest. He also pointed to the confession Synder allegedly made to Chief of Police Joe Carroll and Inspector Masters in which he said the little girl was the aggressor.

Calling Snyder a "scapegoat," Mattson, in his final argument, declared that the state based its case on the testimony of four little girls, Chief Carroll and Inspector Masters.

"The man who committed this vicious crime is walking free on the streets today," Mattson stated. He added that the testimony of the four girls sounded like a "record."

Turning to the confession Snyder reputedly made to the two police officials, Mattson reiterated that it was done in order for him to use a phone to call his wife and obtain the aid of counsel.

Mattson defended his client's attempt to make a "deal" with the county attorney's office, hoping to get a lesser charge filed against him. The attorney stated it was done to protect Snyder's family. He said it was never Snyder's intention to plead guilty to any charge.

Motion Overruled.

When County Attorney Wagener, making the state's final argument, stated that it was his opinion and the opinion of police officers that Snyder was guilty, Mattson made a motion for a mistrial, which was overruled by Judge Harry Ankeny.

The case was then submitted to the jury, consisting of nine men and three women, exactly three months after the crime.

Snyder has built his defense on the testimony of persons who claim they saw him during the period the alleged offense occurred.

Testimony 4 Girls.

The prosecution supports its charge with the testimony of four little girls who identified Snyder as the man who gave them a ride from the Municipal swimming pool to their homes on the morning of the crime. One of the girls pointed out the defendant as the rapist.

They set the time of the ride as beginning about 10:30 a. m. The little girl involved returned home around 12:15 noon, she said.

Say Saw Snyder.

Alfred Jewell, manager of the elevator, corroborated Meyer's testimony. Ernest Peterson and Al Hill, garagemen, also testified they saw Snyder during the morning.

In rebuttal, John Perkins, 14, told the court he saw Snyder's car at the Municipal park about 10:30. He testified that four girls, one of whom he knew, got into the car.

Mrs. Mary Shaw asserted that Bob Snyder was at her house between 11 and 11:30 a. m. She said she called the Snyder home earlier and was told Mr. Snyder was not at home. Bob and a brother were sent over then to catch a hog which had escaped.

War Trial Set Legal Procedure

Trial and conviction of General Yamashita for systematic murder by his subordinates established a legal precedent for World war II trials, Col. Harold F. Mattoon told members of the Military Order of World Wars Saturday noon at the Lincoln hotel.

Mattoon had served as theater chief judge advocate at General MacArthur's headquarters, reviewing records in the war crimes cases and recommending disposition of such cases.

The Japanese annihilated some 30,000 Filipino citizens, and contrary to what some lawyers have felt, there was evidence of such widespread and systematic murdering that the commander could not be ignorant of the commission of the crimes, Mattoon reported.

The principle established by these trials is that in future wars men in the highest as well as lowest ranks may be held responsible for committing atrocities, the Lincoln attorney said. He described in detail proceedings of trials in the Pacific area, and explained the court procedure following.

No Dip In Livestock Or Grains

... UPWARD TREND CONTINUES

(By the Associated Press)

Livestock and grain prices continued their upward trend as the nation rounded out the first week of its voluntary food conservation program today.

On the Chicago board of trade, December wheat advanced to a new all time high of $2.95 for that future contract before selling orders brought the price down to $2.93¾, ¾ to 1¾ above yesterday's close. However, the all-time high for any wheat future was $3.25 made by the May future in May, 1917, and the March future hit $3.05 in March of this year.

The Associated Press composite of 35 wholesale commodity prices showed livestock prices reached 243.16 in the index Friday compared with 241.79 a week earlier and that grains and cotton advanced from 221.56 to 228.30. The index is based on 100 far the base year 1926.

However, food prices declined from 162.15 to 159.95 during the seven day period ended Friday. A small drop was recorded in the high price of meat, eggs, butter and some other cost of living items.

On the Chicago board of trade, corn was 3¼ to 4 cents higher near the end of the first hour, December selling at $2.28¾. Oats were ¾ to 1⅝ higher, December $1.20¼.

Government officials and the citizens food committee, despite protests from some quarters, went ahead with plans for nationwide observance of the voluntary food conservation program.

President Truman's request for the voluntary meatless Tuesdays and eggless and poultryless Thursdays has been criticized by some organizations and individuals, and there have been some protests against the proposed 60-day shutdown of the nation's distilleries.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS

can chairman of the house ways and means committee.

From Farm to Farm.

"The young democrats," Morrow asserted, must campaign from farm to farm, explaining to the farmer why he now earns less than a year ago despite record prices being paid for his products."

"Tell the farmer where the blame for the high prices should be placed—the republican party," Morrow said.

Placing the title "NAMGOP" on the republican party because of its close co-operation with the National Association of Manufacturers, Morrow pointed out that the republicans have always looked to big business for their policies while the democrats have always looked toward the working man.

Morrow urged the young democrats to "shout from the housetops" Senator Wherry's statement, "I take full responsibility for the killing of the OPA."

"That statement," Morrow said, "will ring the bell for Senator Wherry's defeat."

The young democrats were expected to approve resolutions supporting President Truman for re-election and support of the Marshall plan.

A resolution, calling for the naming of a vice-chairman in each congressional district, was expected to open up a debate which may lead to other changes in the number of state officials of the organization. At present there are only four offices—chairman, vice-chairman, treasurer and secretary.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS ARE "REVITALIZED"

GRAND ISLAND, Neb.—(AP) —Nebraska's "revitalized" young democrats met Saturday in annual convention which party leaders hoped would produce some top notch timber for the 1948 state election.

The convention found the young party members well organized, virtually for the first time. The state meeting climaxes a series of 14 district meetings at which close knit district groups were formed.

O'Hanlon Not Candidate.

The contest for president to succeed Robert O'Hanlon, former Blair insurance man now employed by an Omaha meat packing firm, appeared wide open. O'Hanlon has announced he will not seek re-election.

Proposals to liberalize the age limits were expected to win approval. The limits now are 21 to 35 years. There is one proposal to lower the minimum to 18-years and another to raise a maximum to 40.

There was no immediate sign of a revival of the resentment against "old line" democrats expressed at some previous meetings. The young party members indicated this was due in large part to the willing hand given by the senior party members in organizing the "youngsters" while allowing the junior units all freedom of operation.

The young democrats were expected to adopt resolutions endorsing President Truman's save food campaign and charging that republican Governor Val Peterson has not taken due action to follow up investigation of state board of control institutions.

The meeting was watched closely by senior party members. Those on hand included Tom Ingoldsby of Omaha, state public relations director, and a representative of James Quigley of Valentine, national committeeman from Nebraska. Quigley himself is enroute to Europe on business. State Chairman William Ritchie is ill in Omaha.

Business sessions this afternoon will be followed by a banquet Saturday night at which the principal speaker will be one of the nation's youngest congressmen, Rep. John Blatnik of Minnesota.

Stocks Show Reluctance

NEW YORK—(AP)—Demand for aircrafts and special stocks propped Saturday's short market although many leaders exhibited considerable rising reluctance.

The second fall Saturday sessions found boardrooms sparsely occupied as numerous customers got an early start on the long week-end. Principal markets will recess Monday in observance of Columbus day. Buying by professionals again was based partly on dividends, earnings and hopes that the recent recovery will be extended. Murky foreign affairs and doubts regarding domestic economy in the light of mounting living costs inspired a certain amount of selling. Aviations reflected expectations of large-scale government orders.

Dealings, active at intervals with low-quoted issues coming out in sizeable blocks, frequently slowed. While advances were widely distributed near the close, the losing column was well filled. Transfers were in the neighborhood of 400,000 shares for the two hours.

High grade bonds were a shade lower.

Crop Report Moves Grains

CHICAGO—(AP)—Grains moved ahead on board of trade today following overnight announcement by the agriculture department of a smaller increase in corn crop prospects than had been expected by most grain analysts. Best gains were reduced in late trade.

Shortly after the opening December wheat reached a new seasonal high at $2.95. This was the best price on record for a December contract. Trade, however, was light. Only report of government cash whea buying came from Minneapolis, where 600,000 bushels were bought yesterday.

Wheat closed ¾ to 1 cent higher, December $2.93@2.93½, corn was 2½ to 3½ cent higher, December $2.28@2.28¼, and oats were $1⅝ to 2¼ cents higher, December $1.21@1.21¼.

The board of trade will be closed Monday, Columbus day.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS By JOHN HIX

September Weather Hot, Dry

... Temperature 112 Hit

Nebraska weather for September was mostly warm and dry, with rainfall in the eastern section averaging less than two-thirds of normal, according to the weather bureau's monthly report issued Saturday.

The early part of September rivaled August for intense heat and on the 3rd exceeded the highest recorded in August, with a number of stations in southeastern counties near the Kansas border recording 107 to 111 degrees, the highest being 112 reached at Fairbury and Hebron.

Near Record Temperatures.

Farther west, 105 to 107 degrees was recorded in some southern counties on the 2nd. The 112-degree temperature is close to the record of 113 set in September of 1897.

Killing frost or freezing weather did not reach the southeastern portion of the state, but occurred generally in the northwest portion on the 15th and in many central and some extreme northeastern localities on the 22nd and 25th. The lowest temperature recorded was 25 degrees on the 15th at Merriman.

The monthly rainfall was less than one inch in most south-central border counties and less locally in the eastern and northwestern portions. The northern portion of the Panhandle received considerably less than the southern, with a marked deficiency in a number of southeastern localities.

Hasten Maturity Corn.

An area in the extreme northeast received two to five inches of rain. Precipitation in Dodge totaled 6.83 inches, 5.92 of which fell in 48 hours on the 12th and 13th. Sedan, in Nckolls county, received the least rain, with only .20 of an inch recorded during September.

The hot, dry weather hastened the maturity of corn, which at the end of the month was mostly past possible frost damage. The crop was spotted, some corn being useful only for silage and fodder, but it was in fair condition on the whole.

The rains during the second week of September were highly beneficial for seeding wheat in most portions, although in the southeast barely more than half was seeded by the close of the month. The hay crop in the sandhills was one of the best in history. Cattle were in genarally fine condition.

Alfalfa Poor.

The third crop of alfalfa was poor because of the hot, dry weather and rain was insufficient for good growth of the fourth crop. Frost caused some damage in the panhandle to potatoes, corn and late beans.

The averages of temperature and precipitation and the departures from normal were: Temperature, eastern division, 69.5 or 3.4 above normal; central section, 67.1 or 2.6 above normal; western dicision, 64.8 or 2.5 above normal; for the entire state, 67.1 or 2.8 above normal.

Precipitation, eastern portion, 1.85 inches or 1.05 below normal; central division, 1.85 or .15 below normal; western section, 1.48 or .14 above normal; for the state, 1.69 or .39 below normal.

A wild goose has been photographed at an estimated height of 29,000 feet, almost 5½ miles high.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

2 U.N. Students Slightly Injured

Two university of Nebraska students were injured slightly Friday night in a two-car collision on Seventeenth street between K and L.

Loren P. Johnson, 24, 625 North Sixteenth street, was taken to Lincoln General hospital where he was treated for head and shoulder injuries. Hospital attendants described his condition Saturday as "satisfactory."

Frank B. Anderson, 23, Rt. 8, Lincoln, received lacerations on the forehead. He was released after being treated at the hospital.

According to police, the accident occurred when the two cars involved were taking part in a "fraternity parade."

Johnson and Anderson were following a car driven by Donald E. Wendelin, 20, 1627 Otoe street, and allegedly rammed the rear of the vehicle when the Wendelin car stopped, the police report stated.
